

Technical Data

POTASSIUM CHLORIDE

Feed Grade

Product Description

Potassium Chloride is a feed grade potassium chloride, especially produced to meet the requirements of the animal feed industry. It is a source of highly available supplemental potassium (K) that will meet animal nutritional requirements for this essential mineral.

Nutrient Properties

Specification

Typical

Potassium Chloride, (KCl), min.
Potassium, (K), min.

95.0 %
50.0 %

95.0 %
50.0 %

Typical Chemical

Potassium	50.3 %
Chlorine	47.26 %
Iron	.06 %
Sulfur	.28 %
Magnesium	.2 %
Sodium	1.02 %
Calcium	.04 %
Manganese	20 ppm
Zinc	6 ppm
Molybdenum	< 1 ppm
Copper	5 ppm
Cobalt	< 1 ppm
Selenium	3 ppm

Particle Size

85 - 100% passes thru No. 65 mesh screen

Packaging Options

50 lbs multi-wall polylined bags.

The information contained herein is, to our knowledge, true and accurate. Because conditions of use are beyond our control, we make no warranty or representation, expressed or implied, except that the products discussed herein conform to the chemical descriptions shown on their labels. Nothing contained herein should be construed as permission or recommendation to infringe any patent. No agent, representative, or employee of this company is authorized to vary any of the terms of this notice.